لِلْعَالَمِينَ

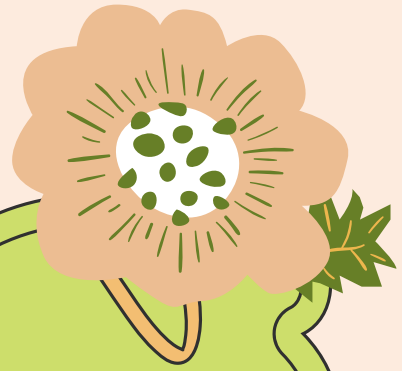

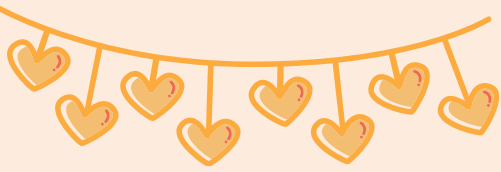

After the death of Lady Khadijah,
the Prophet (peace be upon him)
married Aisha (may Allah be pleased with her), who was an excellent wife to him.

She was dedicated to serving the Prophet, obeying him, and loving Allah and His Messenger
(peace be upon him).

She endured all the adversities
they faced from the disbelievers
and the scheming hypocrites.

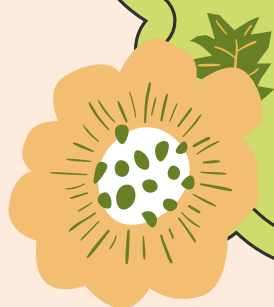

Aisha diligently learned everything from
the Prophet (peace be upon him),
memorized his sayings (Hadiths), and taught them to the women
around her.

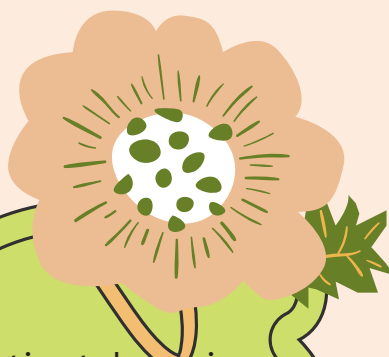

She acquired extensive knowledge,
becoming an expert in the hadith of
the Prophet (peace be upon him).

She was a great blessing to the Muslims, who learned
a lot from her.

Aisha loved the Prophet (peace be upon him) immensely and grieved
over his departure.

However, she remained patient, knowing that she would join him (peace be upon him) in the hereafter and that she had a duty to convey his message. She fulfilled this duty with utmost honesty, patience, and sincerity.

Our Mother Aisha (may Allah be pleased with her) passed away after transmitting all she had learned from the Prophet (peace be upon him).

May Allah be pleased with Aisha!
