لِلْعَالَمِينَ

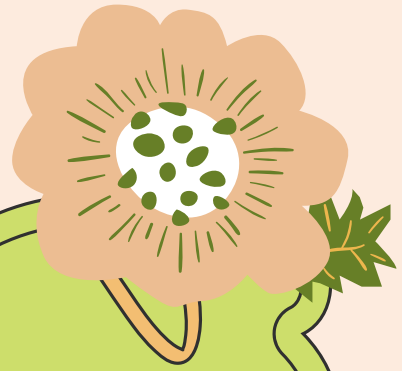

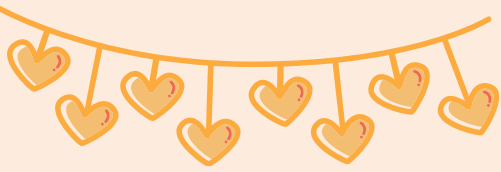

Lady Khadijah (may Allah be pleased with her) was a righteous woman of high status and honor in Mecca.

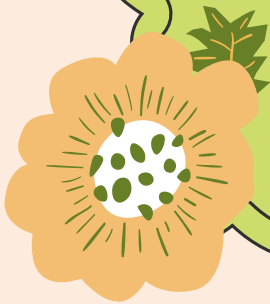

The Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) married her for her good character and noble manners.

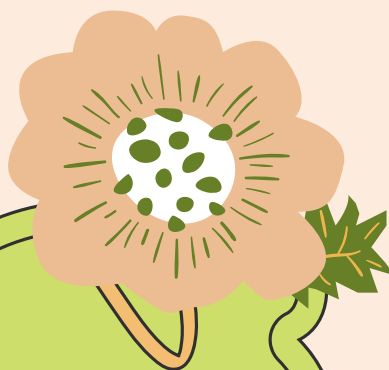

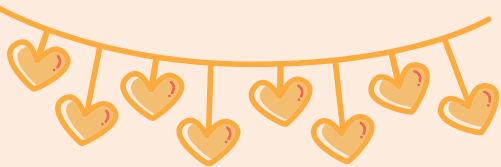

She was a sincere and supportive wife, the best companion for him (peace be upon him).

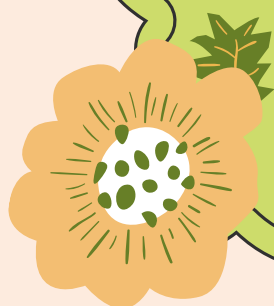

She endured all the hardships her husband faced from the disbelievers, spent her wealth to support Islam and the Muslims, and raised her children on those values.

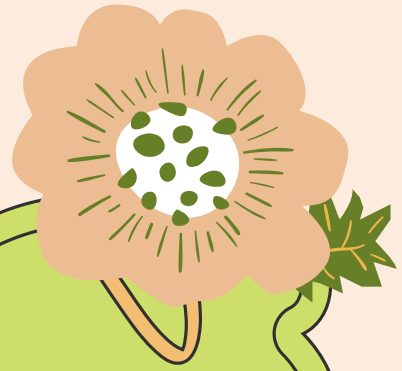

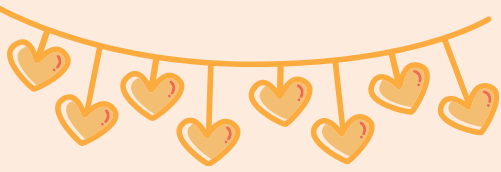

Khadijah remains a role model for the virtuous wife, who strengthens her husband's resolve during hardships and crises.

When the Prophet (peace be upon him) came to her one day, affected by his encounter with the Angel Gabriel (peace be upon him) and the experience of receiving revelation, he said to Khadijah, «I fear for myself.»

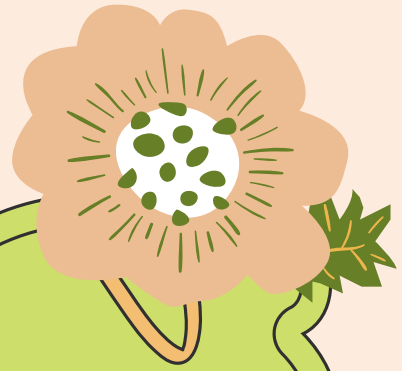

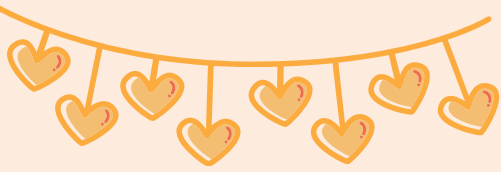

The righteous wife replied, «Nay!
But receive the good tidings! By Allah, Allah will never disgrace you, for by Allah, you keep good relations with your Kith and kin, speak the truth, help the poor and the destitute, entertain your guests generously and assist those who are stricken with calamities.}

With these words, she strengthened her husband, the Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him).

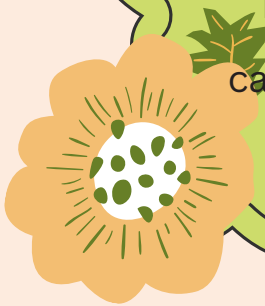

She continued to serve her husband, raise their children, spend in the way of Allah, and endure all the harm and injustice from the Quraysh disbelievers.

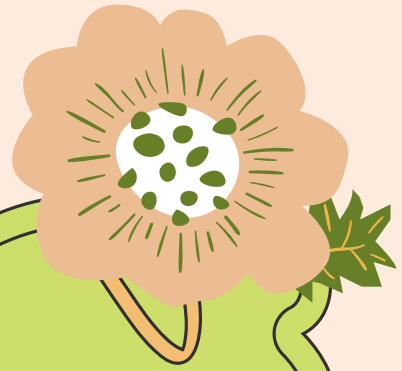

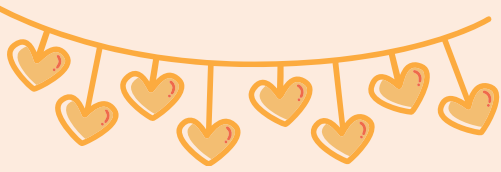

This allowed the Prophet (peace be upon him) to deliver the great message of Islam to the world and fulfill his mission as one of Allah's prophets, calling people to believe in Allah alone and follow His laws.

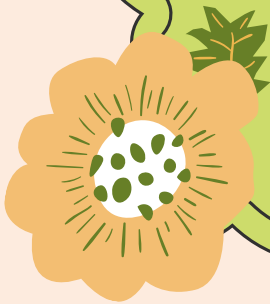

For her support, Allah sent a special greeting to her through His angel Gabriel (peace be upon him) and gave her the glad tidings of a house made of pearls in Paradise, compensating her for all the hardships of this world.

Lady Khadijah passed away before the Messenger of Allah (peace be upon him), and he mourned her deeply.

He continued to remember her with love and gratitude, honoring her friends and recalling her virtues and qualities.

May Allah be pleased with Khadijah
